This book represents a year of times for many people who spent hours and hours at Roseburg Senior High School this year. It is a memory book. Its contents will be familiar to many; however, many of the events and happenings at RHS were partially affected by the things that went on all around us locally, nationally, and internationally. This yearbook also mentions the things that were the main topics of discussion of current events in many classes.

Familiar and outstanding events of this past year were happy, some were sad. Other happenings were of human interest, and unfortunately some were tragic.

Using "Otis" the computer, Todd Beal is assisted by Nate Tremel in Computer Programming.

In the first few months of the school year, many events made history. In early September, Egyptian President Anwar Sadat, Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin, and President Carter met at Camp David for their first summit meeting on their way to peace among the countries. In the world of sports, Muhammad Ali defeated Leon Spinks to regain the world heavy-weight championship in boxing for the third time. On the 25th of September in the worst U.S. plane disaster in history, a Boeing 727 collided with a small plane over San Diego, California, killing 141 person. Then, after a reign of only thirty-four days, Pope John Paul I died of a heart attack.

As the year progressed, the New Yankees once again found themselves the best team money can buy as they won the World Series by defeating the Los Angeles Dodgers seven to two in the sixth game. In the series, Bucky Dent was elected the most valuable player.

Finding himself in good company, Curt Stockhoff studies with Sabra Souza, Nancy Prouitt, Lisa Hakanson, and Lisa Nelson.

Because of increased pressure and rioting, the Shah of Iran was forced to flee the country. One of the most talked about events of the year was a two day riot in a small country in South America called Guyana. On November 18, Representative Leo J. Ryan of California, three U.S. news men and a woman from the U.S. were gunned down at a small airfield outside Jonestown, Guyana. The next day, over 900 American members of the Peoples Temple at Jonestown, Guyana died by a suicide or murder.

In the new year, inflation continued to rise, war broke out between Vietnam and China, and peace was finally established between Israel and Egypt. Michigan State took home the NCAA College Basketball crown as they defeated Indiana State for the title and Oregon brought a new governor into office. Governor Elton A. Sigafoos replaced Robert Straub as Governor of the state of Oregon.

These are only a small handful of the big events and happenings familiar to most and had big effect on the things that went on this year at RHS. Please browse through your year.

With temperatures near freezing, Senior Jani Barton needed mittens to keep her talented hands warm as "Administration" appeared on the teepee

Every day, walking down the hall, familiar faces of the people that head our school come into view. Various roles have to be played by these individuals, but without them, our need for education is blocked. Some new people were present on campus, and some like Mr. Moore, Mr. Sturgis, and Mr. Smith were absent. But through hard work, these people, together with the faculty and the student body, helped achieve a successful year. This section of the 1979 Umpqua Yearbook is dedicated to the Administration.

Administration's icy decision

Getting a surprise vacation because of icy roads on both January 4 and 8 caused the students to lose one of the two holidays they get yearly on Lincoln's and Washington's birthdays. Threats of mass skipping fizzled out when students were told that it would be made up at the end of the school year. The make-up day was February 19.

The resignation of longtime board members, Dr. Donald Jeppesen, Donald Kruse, and Pat Jannelli was a shock to a lot of people. Mr. Kruse felt it was time to get new blood on the school board; Dr. Jeppesen referred to all that extra time required at board meetings as reason for his resigning.

New board members, elected on April 3, consisted of Noel Groshong who upset Tommy Kimbrell, and Judy Ammerman, who replaced Pat Jannelli.

A major consideration this year was a proposal of a site for a new high school in the Garden Valley area. The district owns the 64 acres, and it was estimated to cost around 20 million dollars to build the school. Even with all the turmoil, the school board kept School District #4 running efficiently.

Leadership is on the move.

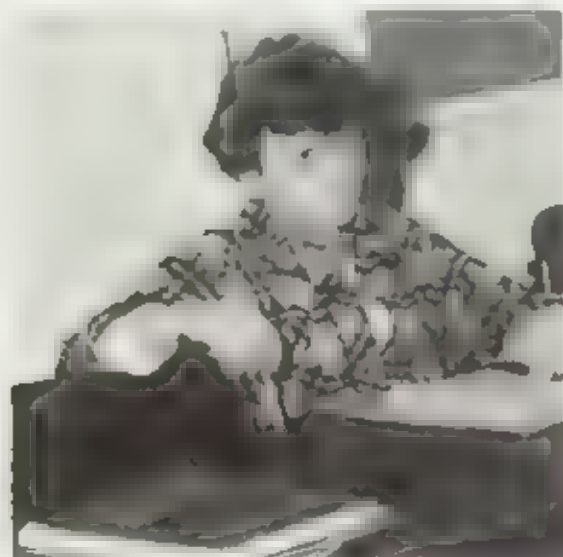

Leadership moved to a new place for their meetings this year. They used to meet in the conference room in the main building, but that room was turned into the attendance office. They then met in the old marketing classroom every other day.

Leadership organized most of the dances and tried to prevent a litter problem. Some of the dances they sponsored were homecoming and the Christmas ball. They had to arrange the buildings where the dances would be held and also someone to clean up after the dance.

The litter problem was only once a big concern. The result was that Mah cook, the student food store, was closed until the litter problem was corrected.

Dr. Nees keeps RHS going

Dr. Dale Nees, principal, makes sure that things go as they should around RHS. On one day he may deal with a variety of different things, such as counseling a teacher, handing a budgetary item, explaining the school policy to a parent, or encouraging the whole student body at an assembly.

He may deal with students as well as school board members. When, for example, some students went to him to request a reserved section for the bleacher bums, Dr. Nees had to explain why they could not have it. That section has no reserved seats in it. With the assistance of two Assistant Principals, two Deans, Office Manager, Athletic Director, and Student Leadership Advisor, he keeps the school running smoothly.

New V.P. beefs up attendance

Last year a student could have on y ten absences. But this year every time the student was absent, the parent had to call the school to verify the absence. It was then called an excused absence. This new policy fell under the duties of Mr. Steve Iverson, new assistant principal in charge of student affairs. Handling the parking lot and the smoke line was another part of his job. He saw to it that the students earned their privileges by following school rules.

Mr. Allen Ricketts, assistant principal for nine years, was in charge of curriculum. One of his duties was to observe the teachers at RHS and make written evaluations of each one. Together, Mr. Iverson and Mr. Ricketts kept very busy.

Welch and Fread run counseling center well

Mr. Bill Welch and Mrs. Phyllis Fread are veteran deans at RHS, Mr. Welch with fourteen years and Mrs. Fread, twenty-five years. Mr. Welch was in charge of the senior boys, and Mrs. Fread, the senior girls. Both deans played a major role in registration, checkout, and commencements

Mr. Welch was the activities director and organized the college visitation days for the seniors. Mrs. Fread was the advisor of Girls' League and coordinator for foreign exchange students. She was also the department chairman for the counseling center, and ran the scholarship program.

Counselors do a variety of jobs

There were four counselors at RHS. Each one had plenty of work involving the students. Each registered new students, made schedule changes, and tried to keep track of students who had attendance or personal problems.

Sandra Walker was the junior girls' counselor. This was her first year, moving here from Southern California. Lorraine Linebaugh was sophomore girls' counselor and completed her second year.

Two of the boys' counselors were Mr. Ron Sturtz (Sophomore) and Mr. Thurman Bell (Junior). Besides being counselors to the student body, each was involved with activities outside the counseling center. Mrs. Walker was advisor to Charity-12 Club, and Ms. Linebaugh was on the Faculty Advisory Council. Mr. Sturtz worked with Leadership Class, and Mr. Bell was the head football coach.

Secretaries are vital to RHS

Secretaries are a vital part of RHS. Margie Medford, the head secretary and secretary to Dr. Dale Nees, has been at RHS for thirteen years. Jo Anne Parkhill, general secretary and assistant to Mr. Ricketts, was in charge of payroll and getting substitutes for the RHS staff.

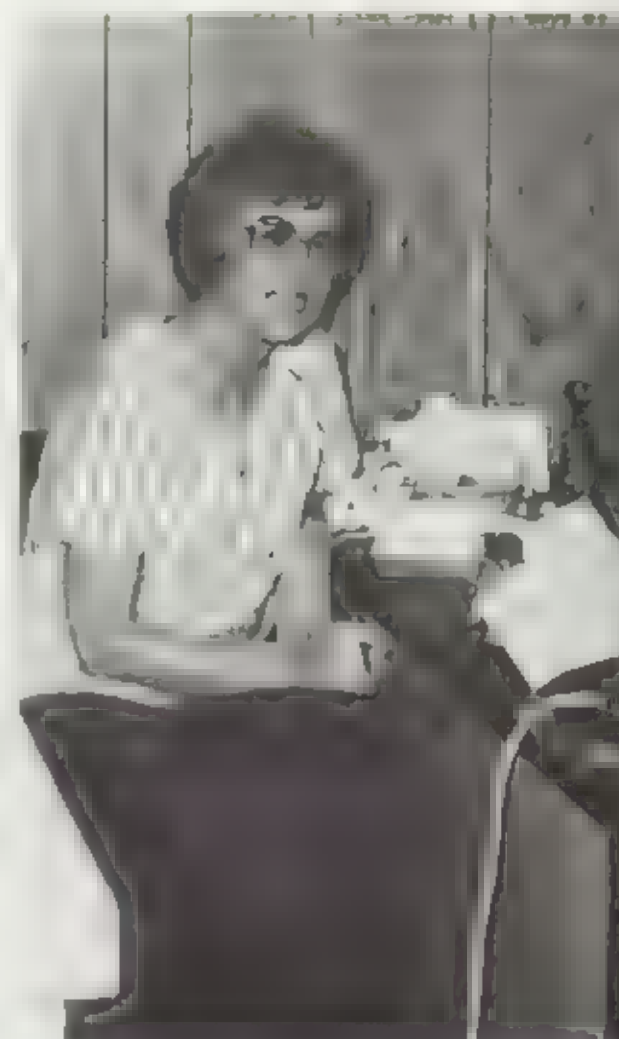

Another key responsibility was held by Betty Miller, bookkeeper. It was her duty to keep a record of incoming and outgoing funds. Some of the accounts were administrative, scholarship and loan, curriculum class or department, athletic, clubs and classes.

Barbara Holland, records secretary, kept transcripts of each student up to date. She also ordered the diplomas for the seniors who would graduate. Edna Scott was data processing clerk.

Getting the material necessary for each student's report card for the computer was a part of her job.

Attendance secretary was Yvonne Long. She recorded and kept track of each student's absences. Yvonne Sjogren, new this year, was the book manager. She ordered supplies and books for the staff.

Maxine Carl, library clerk in the vo-tech, ordered films and provided projectors for the faculty. Kay Anderson, the athletic department clerk, sent season tickets to people who reserved seats for football and basketball. She also kept records for each sport on how much money was spent or earned. Without each of these secretaries, RHS would probably have functioned less efficiently.

In spite of age janitors shine

Custodians had a tough job. They had to keep mostly old buildings clean, a burden made heavier when most of the buildings to be kept up were in a stage of decay from old age, (buckling floors, cracked walls and ceilings, windows that will hardly close, moldings that miss the floor by a half inch)

Ms. Helen Niday, the head janitor, vacuumed and dusted the principals offices. She also helped others with their jobs. Art Hulsey, the grounds man, kept the football field in good shape and the bleachers clean. Some janitors cleaned the class rooms, mopped the floors, erased chalk boards, and tidied the rooms, while other janitors worked outdoors

Drama reads more than cue cards

Drama is more than just standing on stage and reading memorized lines or cue cards. Richard Lanier, head of the Drama Department, teaches students important qualities — history of the stage, understanding plots and structure, and analyzing literature.

The students this year put on many small skits, instead of one or two large plays as in past years. Among these skits was a villain who wanted his money and a housewife who couldn't pay the mortgage, or a man who tried to kill his wife, who, instead, killed him.

Classes plan trip to Europe

German, French, and Spanish are the three foreign languages offered at RHS. The German classes sponsored the German club, which was advised by Mark Strong, the department head.

A foreign language course is a prerequisite for all universities and major colleges. Besides that, students enjoy learning a new way to talk.

New computers to math depts.

The math department installed three new computers for the computer programming course. The problem with the old system was that it was linked by telephone lines to a major computer in Eugene. Every time someone turned it on to do an assignment, it cost him the price of a long distance phone call.

Math was taught in two groups: a large group and a small group. The large group was used for lectures and review. The small group was for daily assignments and lastly for the biggest headache in school, "TEST."

Three teachers are veterans

Referring to veterans in this article means in years of service to the school. Of the three Home Economics teachers, Mrs. Corrine McTaggart has been here for twenty eight years; next in line is Mrs. Hazel Howlett, with twenty years, and then Mrs. Edna Wilson, with sixteen years. When one thinks about these combined years of service, these dedicated teachers have made quite an accomplishment.

The Interior Design & Find/Furnish a Home class took, on May 8th, a field trip to R. Veal & Sons Furniture factory, where the students viewed 'Flint Ridge' maple furniture being made. Also, on the same day, they visited the Ethan Allen Galleries in Eugene.

There were no new teachers in this department, and Mrs. McTaggart remained as the department head.

Another house is built

Construction III class resumed its annual building of a house. Mr. Harry Scheele's Architectural Drawing helped design and draw the plans for it. Last year they decided not to build the house because of the difficulty in selling the previous year's structure.

Building cabinets for this house and other houses was Construction II's job for the year.

The only change in personnel was Mr. John Hensley, who took over for Mr. Pomme.

Health classes divide

The senior health class was divided into two classes, 11a with sex education and 11b, without sex education. Students have choice of either course, depending on personal and parental wishes. Also students have the choice of taking Anatomy/Physiology or Health Occupations as an equivalent to the required health class.

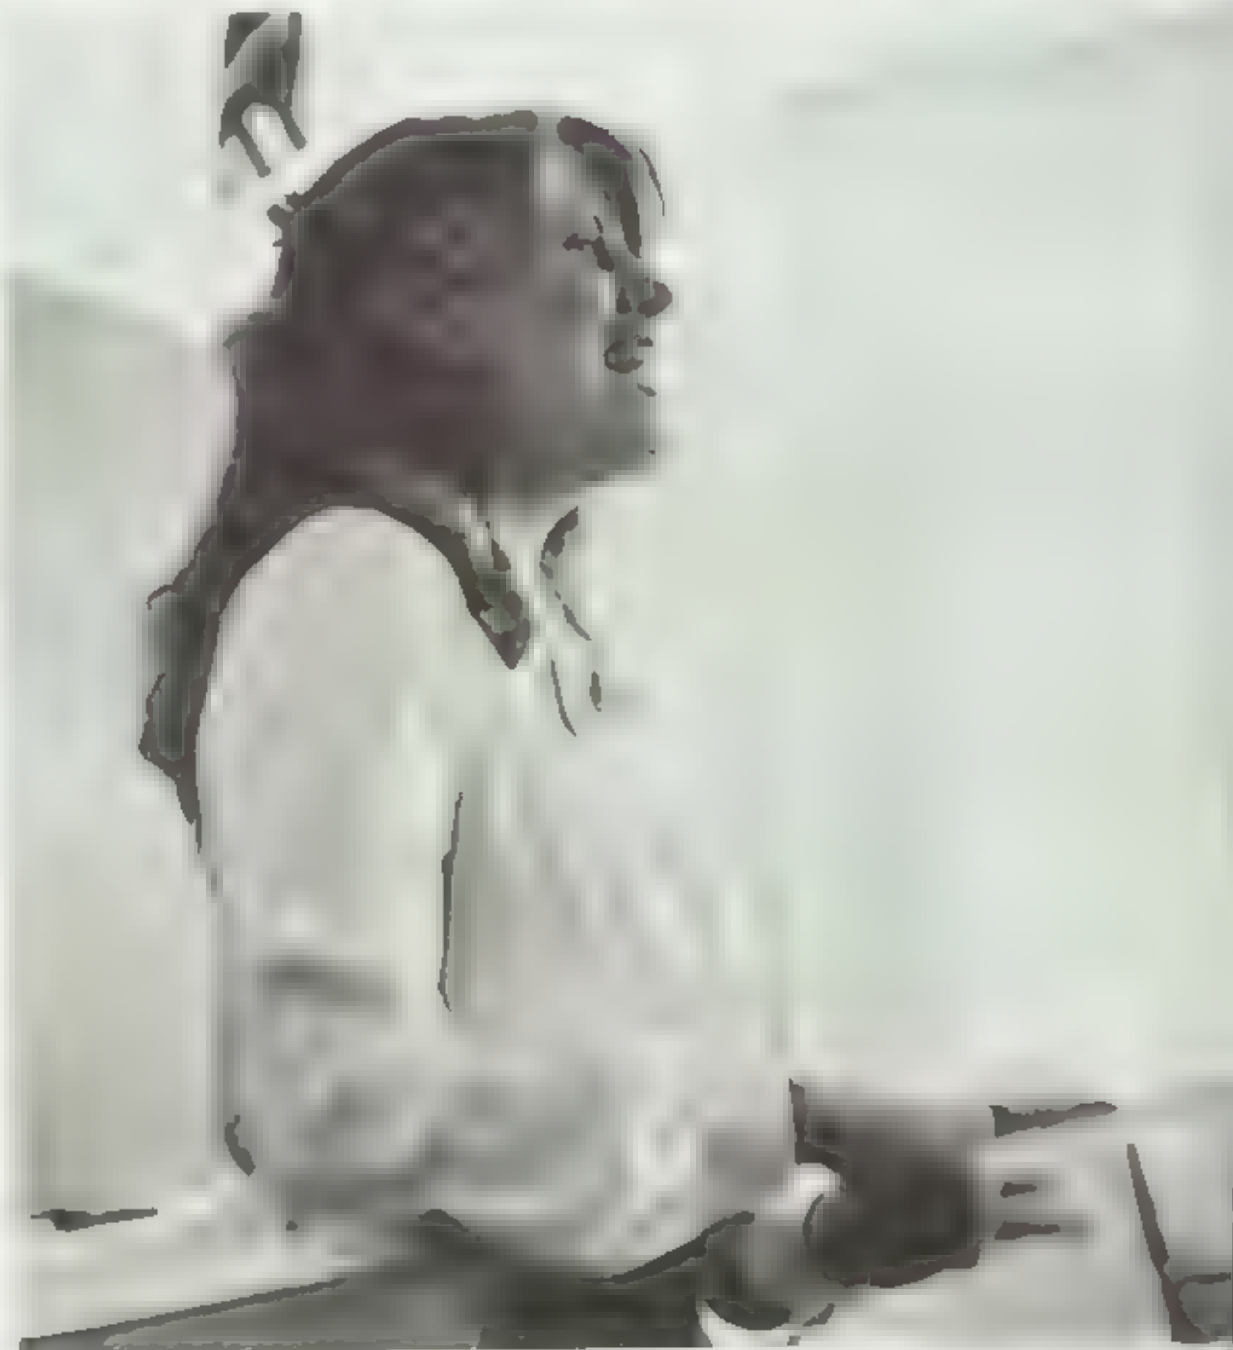

Major faculty changes in the department were John Gove and Bill Walker, who took over for Don Wassom and Angela Wong. Larry Baker taught health rather than personal finance and Miss Stremfel taught three periods of health.

Staff members win awards

This year the Orange R put out fewer but choice editions. Two of the staff received departmental awards — Editor Russ Powell and Adv. Mgr Bob Wingfield. Mr. Mal Koch, adviser, reported that they do a superb job.

Umpqua Yearbook staff received a First Place award from the National Scholastic Press Conference. Prior to that they held an all day workshop which was conducted at the school by a Taylor Yearbook representative. Schools nearby and the junior highs were represented.

Together the publications staffs attended the OSP Conference at the U of O in the Fall. Along with nearly a thousand other students, both staffs learned a lot.

Indians place 2nd of state

There is no doubt about the unmistakably fine football the Southern Oregon Conference saw from the Roseburg Indians. They earned second place in the State playoffs.

The Indians were number two in the SOC, losing only to Medford. The close game was held at Medford's Mid High, where the concluding score was 8-7. Roseburg then went on to win the remaining four league games.

The Tribe then traveled to Aloha to land their first playoff win. At home on Finlay Field, Roseburg overcame Grant by 14 points for the second win. Hopes for a chance at playing for the State AAA Championship started to brew in everyone's mind.

That chance came when the Indians rolled over Forest Grove on a very cold evening at Autzen Stadium, with the final score of 35-14. The next week Roseburg was facing the Corvallis Spartan for the State AAA Championship. The two teams were evenly matched, but it ended: Corvallis 21 Roseburg 14, Corvallis scoring one more touchdown than Roseburg. The Indians came home with the second place trophy.

Seven players were named to SOC's All Conference first team. They were Neil Fuller, Al McKelvey, Bruce Barton, Craig Vohland, Todd Nell, Buck Sarver, and Shane Smith. In addition, Craig Vohland and Kevin Trunkey were selected to the All State first team.

1st in district, harriers live up to rating

Feeling the pressure of being rated number one in district by the media throughout the season, the boys' cross country team proved themselves at district by finishing first at Klamath Falls.

Top finishers for the harriers were Mark Worden with 16:09 for fifth, Keith Smothers 16:13 for sixth, and Allan Sorensen 16:17 for eighth. Coach Jim Robinson felt the team's grouping at District was not as good as it had been during the season, but this was due to a few illnesses and injuries. The high elevation and steep course were also factors for the mediocre times.

However, the times at State run at Lane Community College were lifetime best with Mark Worden at 15:22 for 32, Craig Price 15:32 for 43, and Allan Sorensen with 15:48 for 58th place. Robinson marked these three times, all under 16 minutes, as quite an accomplishment from the beginning of the season when the team was trying to break into the 16-minute category.

Inexperienced team improves

This year the girls' cross-country team was successful, even though they only one one meet. How could this be? The reason, explained Coach Jim Robinson, is that each girl improved her own times during the season. Some of the improvements were dramatic, others could hardly be recognized, yet each girl improved.

It was a challenging season with the first meet run in the sand dunes and the last meet (at district) run uphill. Robinson noted that the team was inexperienced, with only five girls returning who had ever run a cross-country race. Eight of the girls were running a race for the first time. The season record was 9:1. Robinson explained that none of the meets counted except district, where the girls placed fifth.

At the Fall Sports Banquet Joan Herbage received the Most Outstanding award.

New offense has slow start

This year the combination of learning a new offense and having only one varsity starter returning from last year weakened the varsity volleyball team's chances of having a winning season, which ended with a 5-11 record.

In the Southern Oregon Conference the team finished fifth. The decisive match was played at Medford, where the team battled for second place. They also lost to Medford. Coach Sue Ann Stremfel felt this match was one of the girls' best throughout the year. "Everything the girls had worked on this year they utilized in the match." However, the girls lost the match which ended their season.

The JV's win record was 12-4, with Jeff Fong as their new coach. He attributed the good record to excellent serving and spiking.

Awards were presented to Most Valuable, Diane Davidson; Most Improved, Jodie Forney; and Most Inspirational, Suzie Hanan.

New coach has building year

For Coach Guy Seghetti, his first season of coaching gymnastics at RHS was a building year. Out of eight girls who started at the first of the season, five completed the year. Seghetti's reason for the low turnout was the lack of interest and knowlege of the sport.

Seghetti noted that before any meets started, the team was behind because of the lack of depth on the parallel bars, floor exercise, and balance beam. However, as the year progressed, so did the gymnasts with their routines. Seghetti believed that concentration and repetition would greatly improve the chances of bettering the team's fifth at district for next year. The team's overall record was 6-1.

At the Fall Sports Banquet Seghetti announced that the Most Improved was Claudia Carle and Most Inspirational was Jill Beecroft.

Three Indians on SOC 1st team

New head coach Bill Walker evidently steered his Varsity team in the right direction. It was number one in the Southern Oregon Conference for the second year in a row. The team's season record was 19-3 and league record, 18-2, with losses only to Medford.

At the State playoffs, the team lost both of their games. Before the playoffs, they were voted third place ranking in the top ten in the state.

Walker attributed his winning team with good attitudes and intelligence.

"The season is one we can all be proud of. The team won the SOC Championship, did not lose an away game during the regular season, and placed three players — Brett Agost, Jim Cole, and Kevin Trunkey — on the All Conference first team.

Most Outstanding was Brett Agost, Most Improved was Jim Cole, Most Inspirational was Joel Mendenhall, the Best Free Throw Percentage went to Kevin Trunkey, and the Coaches' Award was given to John Brown, truly an array of great honors.

Girls place fifth at state

This year the girls' basketball team shared the Southern Oregon Conference Championship with Medford, ending the league with a 9-1 record. The girls then headed up to State, where they placed fifth, farther than any other RHS girls' basketball team has gone to date. They concluded the year with a 19-6 season record.

Head coach John Thomas attributed his team's fine season to qualities such as shooting and running well. Thomas felt that an overall lack of experience was the team's one weakness.

Two Indians, Nancy Driver and Diane Davidson (guards), were named to the State Metro All-Star game.

At the Girls' and Boys' Basketball Banquet, Driver was named Most Inspirational and Outstanding, and Toni Merk was named Most Improved.

New coach new philosophy

It was definitely a building year for Head Coach Kevin Hill for both the boys' and girls' teams. Hill felt that the potential of having strong teams was there, yet he was a new coach and it took half the season for the athletes to learn his coaching philosophy. Hill believes that there should be less pressure for the swimmer to win but rather to just do the best he or she can.

Even though he had a somewhat different approach to coaching, nine swimmers and divers were sent to the state meet at Hood River Community College. Tami Forrest and Robin Deal Placed 11th and 12th overall in diving, while no swimmers placed.

At the Swimming and Diving Banquet, Most Outstanding was awarded to Mike Fitch, and Most Improved were Robin Ylitalo and Ward Patitz.

Five win at district match

The 78-79 Indian wrestling team ended its season with a 13-7-1 record. Head Coach Greg Strobel felt that the team did well, even though it lacked experience and had a very tough schedule.

Ten Indian wrestlers placed at district in Klamath Falls. Five of the ten were District Champions in their respective divisions. This was the largest number of District Champions that Roseburg team has had at any one time. The District Champions were Scott Thompkins (98 lbs.), Mark Rodriguez (106 lbs.), Bob Miller (148 lbs.), Jim Baumgardner (168 lbs.), and Mark LaFountain (191 lbs.).

Tompkins and Baumgardner placed fourth in their divisions at State, while Rodriguez placed fifth.

Four trackmen go to state

It was truly a young team that had some old hands that ran for head coach Jim Robinson this year. In each event there was only one or two varsity lettermen returning from the previous season. This left the team with shaky depth, especially in the relay events. Nevertheless, the Indian tracksters came away with a 6 and 2 record.

The battle to be the Southern Oregon Conference Champions was clearly with Medford, who at District placed first. Roseburg followed with a strong second place, 35 points behind Medford. Four trackmen were sent to the State Track and Field meet in Eugene: Joel Mendenhall, pole vault; Brent Seehawer, discus; Dave Wilson, 1600 meters; and Allan Sorensen, 100 meters. Seehawer placed fourth in State. It was Seehawer's and Sorensen's third appearance at the state meet.

At the Spring Sports Banquet, Seehawer was named Most Outstanding and Sorensen Most Inspirational.

Two girls earn way to state

In spite of the rainy weather, many personal and school records were broken. Coach Milton King explained that the girls were constantly bettering their times or throws. Diane Davidson, who held the school record in the long jump, broke her own record with a jump of 17'9½"

The girls ended their season with a 1-8 at Crater, where they placed sixth in the district. However, Barbara Kinney took second in the 100 meter hurdles with a time of 15.9, and Davidson placed second in the long jump with a leap of 17'4", which qualified them for the State AAA Track and Field meet held in Eugene at Hayward Field. Kinney did not place, while Davidson took eighth place in the long jump

Two on SOC's first team

It was a long season for the Indian baseball team this year. The lengthiness was due to the foul spring weather that cancelled many of the team's games. Rain forced the players to practice inside the gym, keeping them from having regular practices.

Nevertheless, the Indians came away with third place in the District and had two players on the SOC All-League Conference first team. Rich Middleton went as third baseman and Craig Vohland as catcher.

The team's season record was 15-13 and the league record was 9-11.

Even though girls' tennis lacked the prestige of having a large team, the girls came through with an incredibly good season. They had an 11-2-1 record.

At the District meet in Ashland, the girls placed fourth, one point behind Grants Pass. Deborah Newey and Chris Maks were the SOC's District Doubles Champions, while teammate Janet Horn placed third in singles. All three girls went to the State Tournament.

Newey and Maks advanced to the State Quarterfinals, where they were beaten by the eventual State Champions. Horn was eliminated after the first round and entered consolation play, where she was also beaten by the State Consolation Champion in the third round.

At the Tennis Banquet sponsored by the Roseburg Tennis Club, Newey was named Most Outstanding, Maks was named Most Inspirational, and Horn and Mavis Hoover were named Most Improved.

Depth was the major strength of this year's boys' tennis team. Coach Art Nolet credited all twelve of the let-termers with having the depth to carry them to the runner-up position at District. The season's record was 16-3 while the league record was 5-1.

Bruce Rattner placed third in the singles division at District (here) Craig Shike and Steve Gallas placed third in the doubles division over teammates John Hingley and Doug Koth by a coin-flip. Both doubles teams and Rattner went to state where they were eliminated after first round play.

At the Tennis Banquet sponsored by the Roseburg Tennis Club, Bruce Rattner was named Most Outstanding and Craig Shike, Most Inspirational.

Golfers third at State Tourney

The Roseburg golf courses may have been a little soggy at the start of the season, but the Indian golfers did not let the rain interfere with their winning season. They completed their best year ever to come up with the District Championship, and they placed third at State.

Headcoach Curt Jarvis stated that the reason the boys did so well was that there were more boys of equal ability playing with the team.

German Club enjoys picnic

German Club was made up of students from the first, second, and third year German classes. They were led by Mr. Strong, more popularly known as "Herr" Strong.

At the beginning of the year, members enjoyed a picnic at the park, where the main activity was football. In November they made a Thanksgiving basket, which was gratefully received by one of the needy families in the area.

Club members ate their way to German heaven when they were invited to participate in a feast put on by the German classes at U.C.C. They also took a field trip to Portland, where they enjoyed a German dinner at the Matterhorn restaurant. They earned the cash to go on the field trip by having money-making projects such as car washes.

New Life spreads gospel

New Life club found enthusiastic support from many of the Christian students at RHS. Their purpose was to attract Christian students and motivate them to spread the gospel.

One way in which members realized their purpose was by painting the teepee. They decorated it several times during the year, writing verses and even whole stories from the Bible.

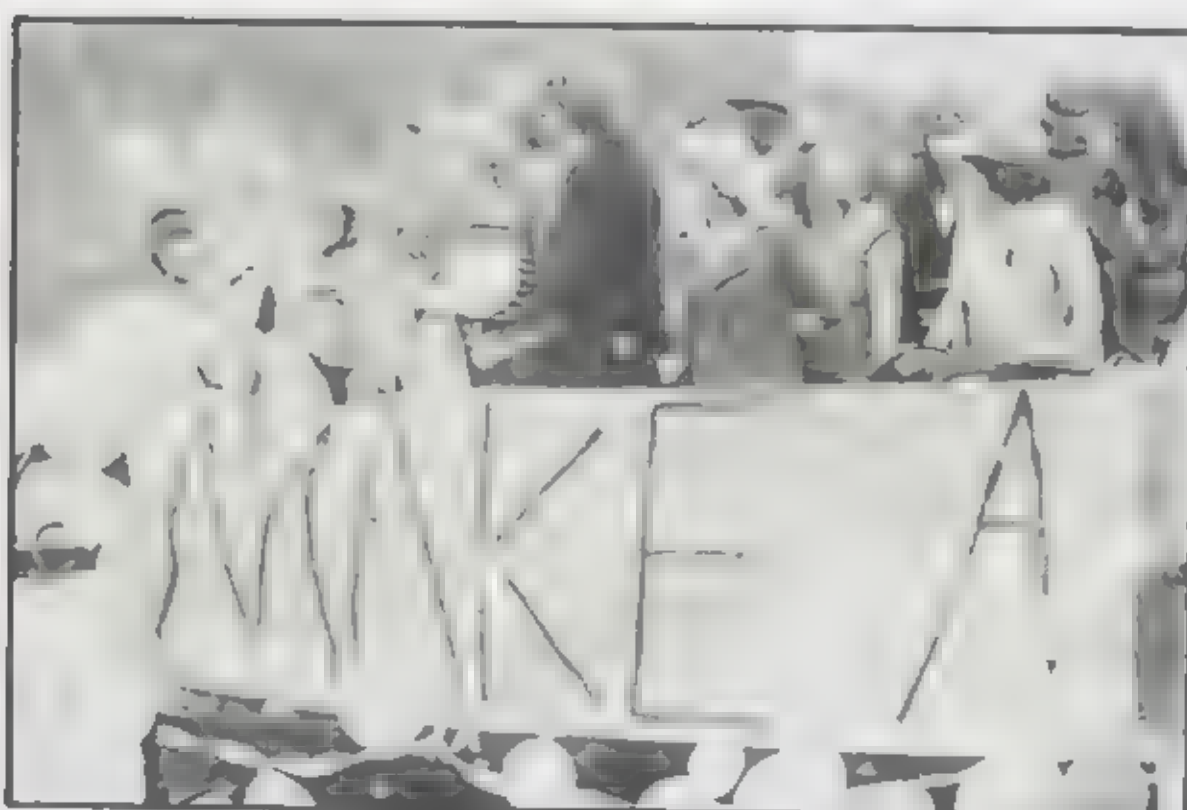

Their decorating abilities were also shown when they won first place in the float competition at Homecoming. They held pizza and bowling parties, perhaps to celebrate their successes.

They also spread the word of the Bible by engaging Christian comedian Mike Warnke to come to U.C.C. in March.

They were sponsored by Mr. Lee, a business teacher and assistant football coach at the high school.

DECA wins at state

DECA (Distributive Education Clubs of America) was very active this year. They ran the new Mahcook in the Commons, and a separate bookstore, besides. They tried many new things, including a new line of hot sandwiches and soups.

In March, DECA had its Oregon State Career Development Conference in Portland. The students competed in various marketing areas such as advertising, food marketing, apparel and accessories, and food services. The chapter took sixteen awards — fourteen individual and two chapter. Three members were eligible to go to the nationals which were held in Houston, Texas. Bob Wingfield was first at nationals.

New teacher advises speech

Speech Club was advised by Ms Norma Hall, a new teacher this year. Mrs. Ron Sturtz, the Forensics teacher last year, took a leave of absence to go to the University of Oregon and learn advanced methods of speech instruction.

Speech Club went to many tournaments this year, going to district tournament in Bandon in March. Some of the participants won awards, and all had a good time.

Through speech, students learned self-confidence and the important art of talking in front of an audience. They learned the significance of teamwork and relying on themselves.

Boosters support team

Wrestling Boosters were organized for the main purpose of supporting and promoting the wrestling team at home and away games. To accomplish this, the boosters sold baked goods and corn dogs to raise money so they could accompany the wrestling team on away meets. The girls kept score at the matches, ran concessions, and organized the tournament.

In the spring, the booster helped with free-style wrestling, and had a banquet, a picnic, and a pizza feed.

Led by Coach Greg Strobel, they added excitement to the matches and heightened the morale of the athletes.

Ski Club goes to Mt. Bachelor

One trip to Mount Bachelor was the main goal of the Ski Club this year. They took that trip in March as a reward for all their hard work raising money for the trip.

To reach their goal, the club members sold doughnuts during nutrition breaks, held corn dog and baked goods sales, and held car washes.

Mrs. Carolyn Lucia, a personal finance teacher, advised this club.

Dance lab helps Sundancers

The Sundancers made their first appearance this year at Homecoming with a Can-Can dance that was exceptional. Their skill might have been due to the new "Dance Lab," a class designed to give the dance team members a chance to practice their routines without having to practice before school, as they have had to do in years past.

A dance workshop was held during the second quarter of school, which was attended by dance team members from all over the state. Participants learned new routines and methods of movement.

Several money-making projects were held by the Sundancers. One of the most popular was computer dating. A questionnaire, with questions such as, "What would you prefer to do on a date?" and "A girl who doesn't kiss on the first date . . ." was filled out by customers, who then got the results — ten "perfect matches" — at the end of two weeks.

The Sundancers were led by Ms. Stremfel, an RHS physical education teacher.

NHS inducts new members

National Honor Society was a club formed to attract any student with the grade point average of 3.6 or above. They had meetings on the first Monday of every month, when they had guest speakers who would help them choose a career. Their official sponsor was Dr. Dale Nees, and their advisors were Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Milner, and Mrs. Francis.

There were many fund-raising projects during the year. The money earned went to scholarships which were awarded to deserving Seniors at the end of the year. NHS also made a Christmas basket for a needy family.

NHS gained many new members through the two initiations during the year. Students seeking entrance to the club had to fill out various forms and get recommendations from their teachers, as well as outside sources. They were notified of their acceptance when a member of the society "tapped" them, that is, came to one of their classes and notified them publicly of the honor.

Charity-12 make comeback

Charity-12 made a swinging come back this year, after slowly fading from RHS traditions. The once popular club restricted membership to six junior and six sophomore girls. Interest was revived when the group opened up to include all students who wished to participate.

This year, Charity-12 became involved in the Big Brother-Big Sister program. They were "big sister" to Candy, a five-year-old girl. The members took turns taking Candy on week ends, and the whole club participated during Easter, when they took Candy Easter egg hunting.

At the beginning of the year, Charity-12 also held a tea, to which all the teachers and administrators were invited. They served them delicious coffee and cookies.

Students work at Mercy

Oregon Health Occupations Students of America (OHOSA) was both a class and a club. Students in Health Occupations I learned about various health fields and had instruction in anatomy. They learned by having guest speakers, demonstrations by their own classroom teachers, and class discussions.

In Health Occupations II and III, students went out into the field to learn by experience. These classes were two periods long. Some students worked at dentists' or doctors' offices, others chose hospitals, in such areas as the emergency room and physical therapy.

Candy Stripers learn skills

Candy Stripers was a program for teenage girls who were at least sixteen. Goals for the members were to develop personally in learning how to meet and work with other people, make a contribution to the community, gain experience in health care, and to learn new skills. These goals were accomplished by working under the supervision and direction of nursing personnel or department heads.

In order to become a Candy Striper, a girl had to undergo a vigorous training program, which was offered by Mercy hospital. At the end of the program, a dinner was held to celebrate

Biology Club ponders trip

Biology Club planned many trips this year, most of which were called off for various reasons such as rain and hunting season. They did, however, enjoy many interesting discussions.

Biology Club's main purpose was to further develop those students whose interests lay with biology and ecology.

This club was advised by Mr. Richard McBee, a biology teacher.

GAA, Girls' Athletic Association, was open to all girls who were involved in some kind of sport. About eighty five girls were members of this organization. They were sponsored by Ms. Sanders, a physical education teacher. Meetings were held twice a month, with all girls who were participating in a sport that season attending.

GAA ran the Trading Post, using the proceeds to pay for athletic equipment. They also made Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets, went Christmas caroling, and held a spring overnighter, where all GAA members were invited to spend the night in the gym. GAA members also officiated at the grade school volleyball games and ran the chains for the high school football games.

Through club activities, and the sport that they were involved in, club members learned sportsmanship and leadership and performed community and school service.

FBLA helps community

Future Business Leaders of America, more easily known as FBLA, was designed for those students with an active interest in a business career. Most members were enrolled in one or more of the business classes, such as shorthand, business machines, or typing.

FBLA did many things for the community, one of which was typing up programs for local horse shows.

AFS exchanges cultural ideas

Can you imagine going to a strange country, full of people you don't know, where you don't even know the language? That's what this year's foreign exchange students had to suffer through, but luckily for them, there was AFS.

American Field Service sponsors exchange students, but whether they were sponsored by them or some other organization, Roseburg's chapter of AFS helped all the foreign students through those first few months in Roseburg.

There were eleven new exchange students this year, coming from a wide diversity of backgrounds. There were students from Mexico, Brazil, Denmark, Germany, Guatemala, Italy, Northern Ireland, Finland and even Holland.

Spanish Club breaks piñatas

Spanish Club, also known as Los Conquistadores, was led by Mr. Joseph Padilla, more commonly known to the twenty-five members as "Senor."

Spanish Club members went on a field trip to Portland, where they viewed the National Folk Ballet of Mexico on October 14, and to the envy of other students, were excused from their morning classes the next day because they didn't get back to Roseburg until 2:00 a.m. the night before.

During Christmas time the Spanish classes had Christmas parties, where they broke pinatas. They also had money-making projects which went to help pay for a trip to Moreno's and to defray the cost of a student going to Mexico or Costa Rica.

Drama sponsors talent show

Drama Club was a big club this year with a large influx of sophomores who were interested in the dramatic arts.

Last year, whereas there were three Drama II-III classes and only two Drama I classes, this year the numbers were changed around.

Many new Thespians were initiated, also. Now, what is a Thespian? A Thespian is a drama student who has earned ten or more points by participating in dramatic productions. It usually takes at least two years to earn the points.

One of the major productions of the drama club this year was the talent show. It was put on at U.C.C. and was quite successful. The Drama II-III classes also put on the spring mime circus. This club was sponsored by Mr. Richard Lanier, the drama teacher.

ROTC visits Fort Lewis

Reserve Officer Training Corps was very busy this year. The Honor Guard worked at all the football games and basketball games ushering, controlling traffic, and watching the doors for those who hoped to slip in without paying. Color Guard presented the colors at all the games, also.

Competitions were entered by the rifle and drill teams, and a new competition was entered this year — ROTC made a "post" film, that is, a film of themselves marching that could be stopped and re-run. It was sent into competition against similar films from other schools.

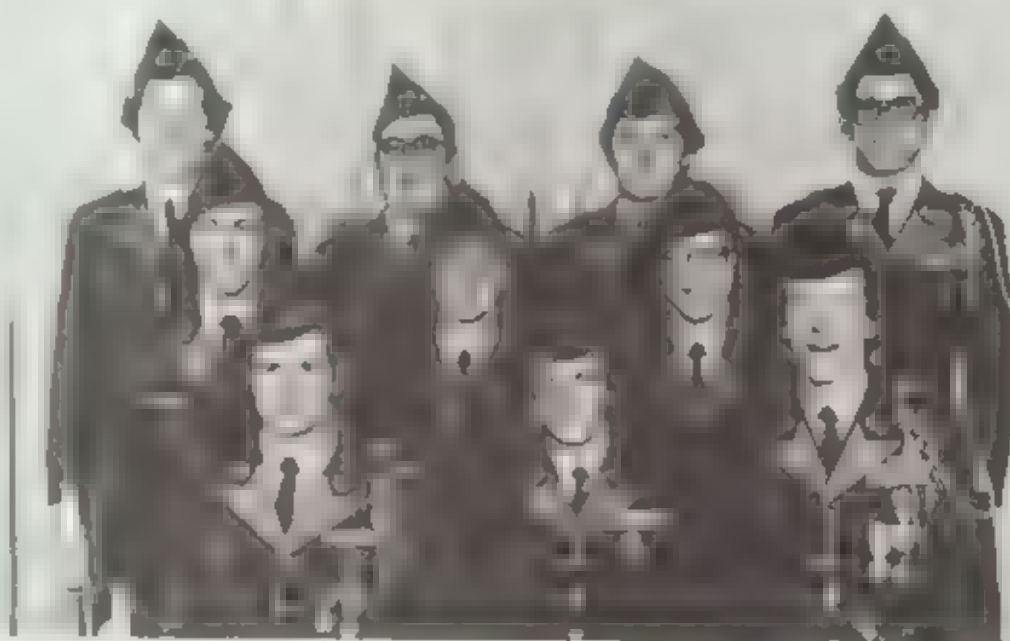

In April, ROTC took a field trip to Fort Lewis, an army fort in Washington. Participants stayed for a week, learning how people live and work in an Army fort. At AFI (Annual Formal Inspection), officers from Fort Lewis came to Roseburg High and inspected ROTC members.

Some of their money-making projects were a car wash and a bottle drive. With the money they earned, they enjoyed both a Christmas party and a Military Ball. At the end of the year there was Achievement Night, where awards were handed out and a new battalion commander was chosen for the following year.

Girls' League since 1920

Girls' League, started in 1920, was the largest club in the school, with all the female students. The League met about once every six weeks, at which time the Girl of the Month was announced for such traits as dependability, sense of humor, and friendliness. At the end of the year, the Girl of the Year was chosen, a girl the other female members of the student body felt was the best all-round

Some of the activities enjoyed and well attended by members were the Father-Daughter Banquet on March first, and the Senior Mothers' Tea in May

Entertainment at the meetings took various forms: fashion shows (with the clothes being supplied by local merchants) and performances by the Sundancers. In March, Tami Sanders (Miss Douglas County) returned to her alma mater and gave the girls a talk on her experience in high school

Girls of the month

Raelyn Palmer was named Girl of the Year for 1978-79 at the last Girls' League meeting held on May 17. She also received Girl of the Month for the Month of May for friendliness.

Raelynn has been on rally during all the years she has gone to Roseburg High, and was rally queen in her senior year. She organized all ASB sponsored school activities, and was interested in sports, dancing, swimming, and teaching.

What is Society of the Stones?

Society of the Stones? Yep, you read it right! Society of the Stones was a new club this year, formed for those people who were interested in the game of backgammon (you know, that strange game on the back of a checker board). Mr. Baker sponsored this club.

During the third quarter of the year, the Society held a backgammon tournament which was open to all people who were interested. Through a series of games, contestants were eliminated. Michelle Matassa came in third, Jim Kerrick got second place, and Mark Estes grabbed the championship.

Backgammon really increased in popularity during the year. At first, people were saying, "Backgammon? What's that?" But by the end of the year, backgammon games were popping up all over the place, even on teachers' desks! Although only about twenty students were active in Backgammon Club, many more people became active in the game itself.

FFA's Golden Anniversary

NATIONAL FFA MILK QUALITY AND DAIRY FOODS TEAM

FFA comes in fifth

FFA (Future Farmers of America) was a winning club this year. With approximately twenty one members, including those from the junior highs, they went to state and competed in various meets. In the area of milk judging, Roseburg was the fifth-rated team in the nation.

Other activities which involved FFA were poultry judging and crop studies.

Her fingers getting a bit numb now, Jani Barton continues to emit a straight line of letters as she spells out "Indians."

Within the next few pages lie the faces and the names of the people you went to school with. Your best friend, your close partner, and your steady date all are inside this section entitled "Indians." That's who we are, the student body of UHS. The class's edition of the Umpqua newsletter is the most familiar part of your year. There are the people whom you had in class, the people who were members of your student government, and the people who cheered wildly at the many battles the Indians had to fight. We are the Indians!

Seniors of '79 achieved many of the high goals which they set for themselves. One of the first goals they set was a homecoming sign, for which they received first place

Bob Wingfield and Patty Bloss both took first places at state DECA competition and then went on to nationals. There Bob received first place overall in Advertising. Steve Dillman placed as a National Merit Scholarship Finalist, the first in RHS history. Suzie Kaser, David Spackman and Debbie Tremel each received first places at Oregon State Solo Contest

In the world of sports, Nancy Driver and Diane Davidson were chosen for the All-State Girls' Basketball League. Our Varsity Football team received second place in AAA competition, and our Varsity basketball team became Southern Oregon AAA Conference Champions

Led by Curt Stockhoff, the Senior Class participated in many activities. Such activities included the dance at the armory and the senior Banquet, whose theme was "Life's Fulfillment comes from the Journey and not the arrival alone."

The juniors were a hard-working class this year, which could be seen by their various money-making projects. Two projects were corn dog sales and football concessions.

Money they raised went to the high light of the year, the Prom. "Stairway to Heaven" was the theme, and Diana Voss was crowned Queen, accompanied by her escort Brian Helliwell.

In the world of sports, members of the class of '80 achieved high awards and honors for their abilities and hard work. Some of these were Dave Wilson and Barbara Kinney, who went to state in Track. Tami Forrest went to State in two sports, gymnastics and diving. In swimming, Mark Dirksen went to state competition.

As usual, the Juniors were second in everything, including the homecoming sign contest.

The Class of '81 endured many of the hardships of being sophomores due to the traditional booing and hissing which they received at many of our pep assemblies.

These Sophomores assumed the roles of servants as they cleaned after the Christmas Ball, Homecoming Dance, and the Prom. They also served at the Senior Banquet and at the Prom.

In order to start raising money for next year's prom, they ran concessions at the Varsity Basketball games.

As a help to the friends of Moby Dick, the Sophomores formulated plans to plant redwoods and dedicate them to the preservation of these Whales. They also had the desire to beautify the school, so they got into the process of drawing up plans for a bulletin board in the Quad, the courtyard of our school.

Many surprises start school

It was a casual autumn day, sunny with a few clouds in the sky and a light breeze blowing. Overall it was a nice day, except that for the first time in history the school doors opened without a budget not already passed. If the budget didn't pass the third time around, school could be kept open only until December 7. So the whole school didn't know if they were staying or getting ready to leave! But the school budget was put on the ballot for the third time — it passed with flying colors. But that wasn't the only "first" that had happened.

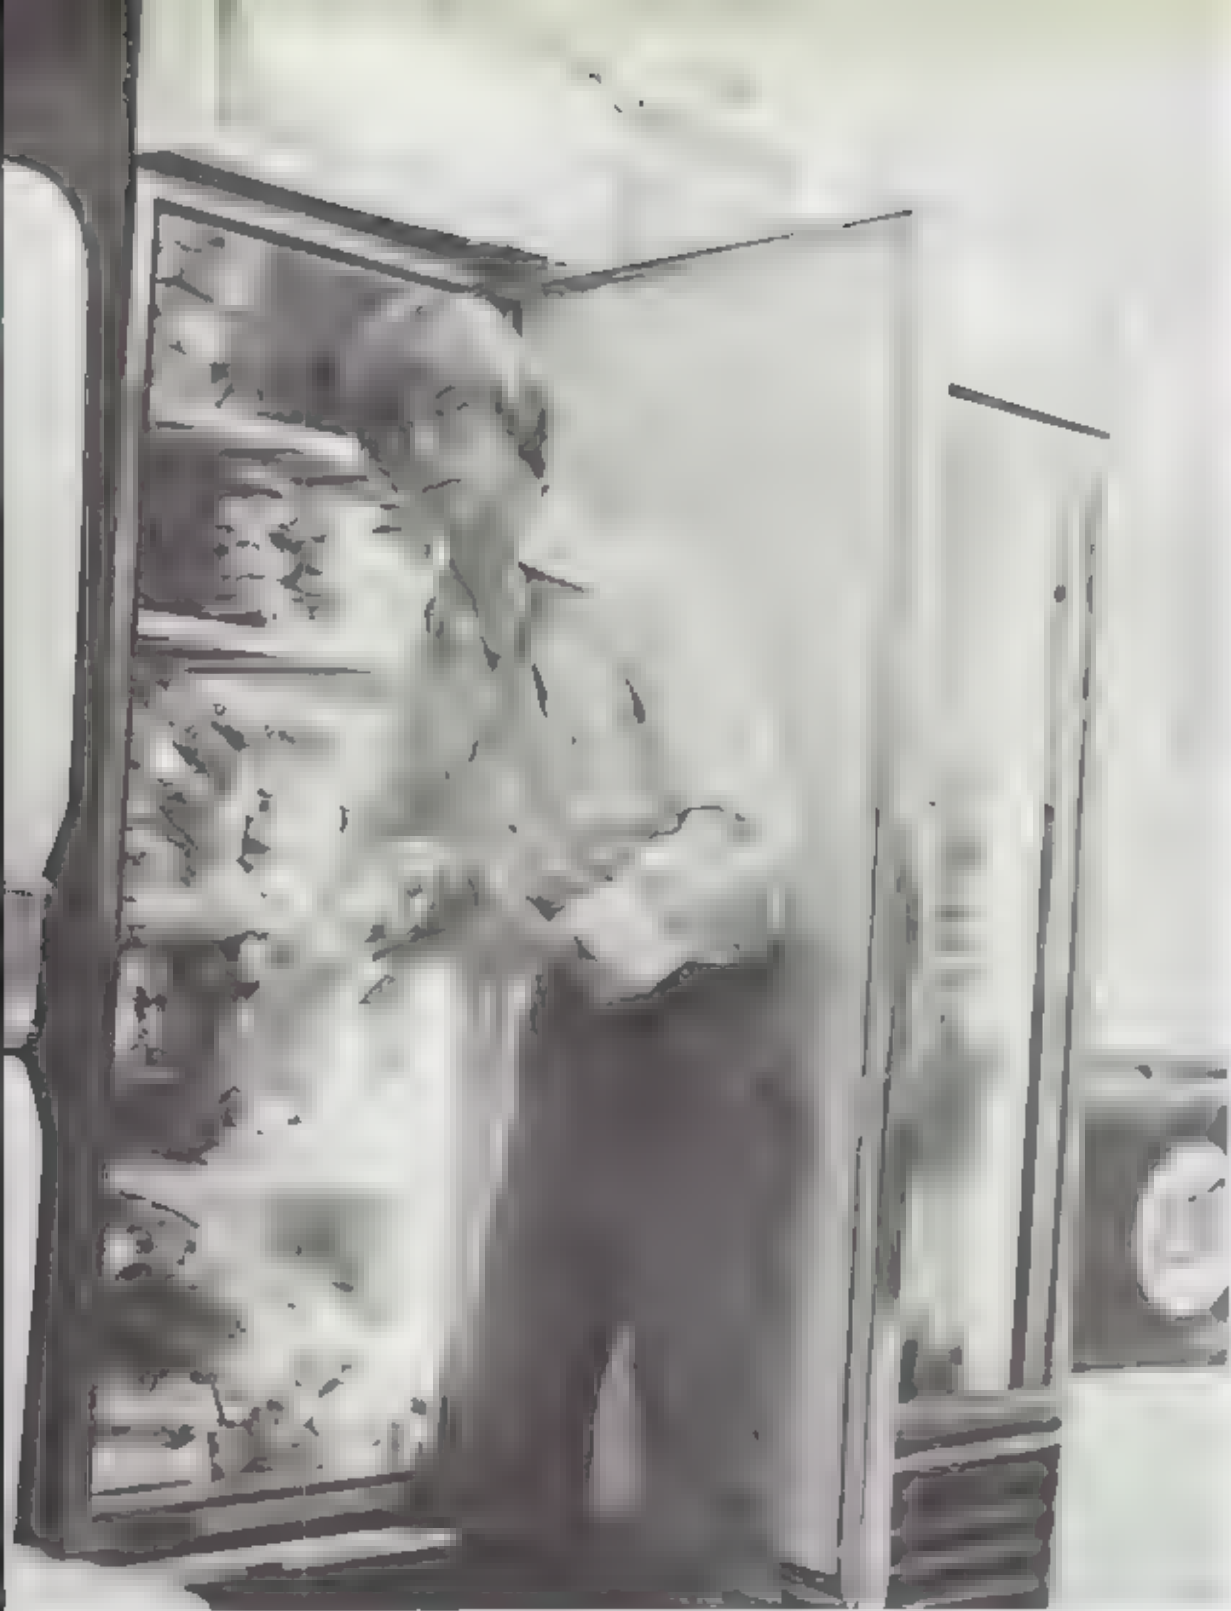

Mahcook, the student-run store, was moved out of the Pit into the bottom of the Commons. The Pit was then used for the Leadership room. Then rather than the vending machines supplying food, the Mahcook did. It seemed to be successful. The Mahcook could practice business while in a more spacious area giving students better selection, and service with more room.

Speaking of rooms, RHS has its very own flood. It happened in Mr. Thomas's and Mr. King's rooms. A pipe under the floor broke, and water seeped through, leaving a nice size puddle. It was big enough that classes for the day were held in the Old Shop Theatre. The next day everything was back to normal.

Oh yes! Something else was introduced to the school — the new attendance policy! Last year students were allowed eleven absences a semester. After that, in most circumstances, they were dropped. This year, since attendance has always been a problem, its office was moved from the counseling center to room M-3. This was where you checked in or out. In case you were absent, someone responsible had to call the school to verify the absence, or it wasn't excused.

a/ Diligently working, the custodian fixes the broken pipe in Mr. Thomas's and Mr. King's rooms. b/ While re-stocking shelves, Karol Schudt tells Mr. Pitts she enjoys working in the Mahcook.

More signs of firsts at RHS

School had still more changes or additions than those mentioned in the previous pages. RHS did some decorating by painting their own signs. The purpose wasn't only to give the school a new appearance but to inform visitors and new students just where they had to go for whatever they needed, like the Main Office or the Business Office. It also kept the Art students busy. Some of the signs included Drama, Art, Grubesor (Roseburg spelled backwards), and English Office as well as the Athletic and Business Offices and the Counseling Center.

Art students started this project last year with a simple diagram of the school, right outside of the L.A., to give anyone who was lost some sense of direction. Though the project got underway last year, it wasn't finished until this year. Some of the art students involved Jim Christensen, Sandy Sparlin, Todd Boyd, and Kelsy Wood.

In addition to the art students identifying buildings, the custodians were really kept busy as they converted some stairways into ramps to provide for the handicapped people. Though most of the buildings are one level, it was still quite a task. Ramps were placed in front of the Main and on both sides of the Library Arts Building. The only places where there were no ramps were the higher floors in the Main and Commons, which would be a tad more difficult to accomplish since they both are two-and three-story buildings.

a/ The English office was easier to find, thanks to some talented art students. b/ Students did not have an excuse for being unable to identify the art room. c/ Leading into the Main building, this was one of the ramps new to the campus.

Students make a lot of noise

Held as part of the festivities of the Homecoming Week were the annual parade and downtown rally. Because cars were not allowed in the parade, students either walked or rode a float. Everyone was so anxious, hurrying onto a float and then waiting for the parade to begin.

The line of floats was headed with the football players and a lot of noise. The parade traveled its usual route through town and ended at the Court House, where all the students gathered according to classes. This is where Mr. Irresistible was named. The court this year consisted of Jim Cole, Mike Simmone, Dike Beamer, Jan Jensen, and Tony Helliwell (Mr. Irresistible).

Then winners were announced. The club winner of the floats was New Life. For the third row in a year of decorations of floats, it was the Seniors. The class sign winners in order were the Seniors, Juniors, and then the Sophomores. Though Seniors also won the Class Yell and took the overall first in all competition the Juniors managed to sneak in a first in noise. All the Sophomores managed to get was third, but they were sure they would do better next year.

a/ Mollie Andrews, Phyllis Weber, Margaret Kinney, Anne Goldsberry, and Dianne Goodell look ahead anxiously as the noise parade finally begins. b/ Students riding on New Life float show their spirit during Noise Parade. c/ Rita Cooper dresses in a different style for the 50's Day. d/ Homecoming finalist Barb Doering shows spirit by dressing up for the 50's Day. e/ Dave Mooers wears his thinking hat.

Girls kick off night rally

This year even the Night Rally got started with a first — our first Powderpuff Football game. It was played on half of Finlay Field. Opponents were the Senior girls against the lowerclassmen's combined effort of Juniors and Sophomores. It was a flag game consisting of shortened quarters. Though the lowerclassmen played a good game, it wasn't good enough to beat the Seniors. This game, of course, had its own referees, and it even had its own class cheerleaders, boys naturally.

After Powderpuff, the regular Night Rally festivities started with class competition, a series of contests between students of each class. One contest involved taking a piece of string, standing in line, and running the string up your clothes and down the next person's and so on until the string reached the end of the line. Another game was played by getting a group of people and placing a feather in the middle of them. Then they had to blow to keep the feather from touching the ground. Then the scoring on class competition was announced — in this order: Seniors, Juniors, Sophomores.

a/ Diana Voss smiles as she mummifies Brian Helliwell at the Night Rally. b/ Karen Abdill nonchalantly explains to Joel Mendenhall that Seniors don't play football that way. c/ Curtis Stockhoff makes a cute cheerleader for the Senior team. d/ Making a little noise, Kim Jones warms up for the football game. e/ Linda Schum, Cindy Briggs, and Shari Nelson are disappointed over their loss to the Seniors.

Homecoming ends with a dance

Homecoming Week came to an end with its final festivity, the Homecoming Dance, that is, until next year. This year's was fantastic. The band, Stratus from Portland, really got things moving with the variety of music which they played. Some of the songs included "Just the Way You Are," "More Than Just a Woman," and a number of songs from Saturday Night Fever. The dance, lasting from 8:00 to 12:00, was held at the Community Building at the Fairgrounds.

Homecoming couldn't be complete without a Queen and court. Queen this year was Diana Lopez, whose court consisted of Debbie Westley, Cathy Carter, Barb Doering, Carla Mask, Karen Culberhouse, and Jami French.

Drama puts on one-act plays

Traditionally, the Drama classes put on a school play for the public and earn money to pay for their scripts and to buy new ones. This year, however, because the shop building was classed as a fire hazard for the public by the Fire Marshal, the Drama department was not able to create a production. Since there was no availability of another place, a play was not considered.

But the fire hazard didn't prevent the Drama students from showing one act plays to the students of RHS. These plays included "Thurber Carnival," "Raisin in the Sun," "Anastasia," "Impromptus," and "Love Is a Four-letter Word." In spite of their fire hazard setback, they put on a play called "Santa's Spectables," a children's play dealing with Christmas. It was a sort of Saturday Matinee in which two performances were held. The Drama class also intended, as in earlier years, to put on plays in the spring for the Junior High and Grade school students at their schools.

Winter gets started with arena

Signs of the arrival of Christmas vacation were the preparation for the second semester of school. This meant it was arena time again, the last time for the Seniors; on the contrary, for the Juniors, Sophomores, and teachers, it was not.

Though no students or faculty members really enjoyed spending their time in the arena, it had proved to be the best way to schedule the students. Since they arranged their own by picking the class period and teacher, there hopefully weren't too many trips back to the Counseling Center to change their schedule again.

The time it took to go through the arena for all the students was a day and one-half. The Seniors registered the afternoon of the day they got out, while the Juniors came back the morning of the next day and the Sophomores that afternoon.

Scheduling was then broken down into forty-minute time periods according to students' last names. Then once they entered, it was a mad dash to get their class cards and get out. It was surely a relief to have it done and Christmas to anticipate.

And to make sure other people had a Christmas to look forward to, RHS had its annual Can Food Drive. To really get it going, Leadership provided an ice cream feed for the individual class that brought in the most cans. Quite a few Seniors agreed this year was the greatest participation seen in the last three years. Teachers were giving extra credit points for each can, and students were buying cans of food. The class that won the ice cream feed this year was Ms. Jacobs' period six Senior Health class, an inspired group of students.

It's the season to be dancing

To highlight the merry season before Christmas vacation was the purpose of the Christmas dance. The students attending didn't seem to mind that there wasn't any snow to top off the mood, but there was a Christmas tree with lots of lights and ornaments.

Tymepiece played at the dance. Though they played hit songs, the speed of the songs was off. Students said then they could have been better. But that didn't dampen the spirits of those students, who just kept right on dancing.

Halfway through the evening, the Christmas Court was announced. Queen Raelynn Palmer, escorted by Tony Helliwell; Senior Princess Lynette Smoot, and Roger Hawks; Junior Princess Diana Voss, accompanied by Brian Helliwell; and Sophomore Princess Sybille Mackenzie, escorted by Russ Steele.

December 23 was the date of the dance which was held at the Fairgrounds in the Community Building as usual. The major reason for having all of the dances at the Fairgrounds was due to the gym floor. A large amount of unnecessary wear was trying to be kept off the floor because it had been sanded as many times as possible without going into extensive repairs.

Students match up by computer

Computer dating came to RHS. Students seemed to have a new way to match up, or at least it was a first here in Roseburg. This computer dating was produced by the RHS Dance Team as a fund raising event.

This match-up event was very successful. Over 400 students filled out the questionnaire, which cost 25¢. It contained questions with multiple answers suiting different types of students. Some of the questions were: What is your favorite music? Are you the "In Crowd?" Does it bother you when others smoke in confined quarters? The questionnaire also contained basic information of age, sex, and grade.

Results of the computer dating cost one dollar. It consisted of a piece of paper with ten of the people most compatible for you and who filled out the questionnaire. The number one name was the most compatible, the number two name second most compatible, and so on down the list. The questionnaires were sent to B & L COMPUTER MATCH, Bozeman, Montana, to be processed within two weeks.

Results were received February 5th and a computer dating dance was held that following Friday. The dance took place at the Old Armory and did not have a band but records.

Students return with raindrops

Spring "sprung" the moment that students returned from their week-long vacation, which ended much too soon for many. It was easier to return with it raining instead of shining.

Shining up their talent were those students who intended to enter the Annual Down-Home Plain Folks Talent Show. The performances were held in the Umpqua Community College Auditorium, March 26. The cost of the show was one dollar, and the profits went to the Drama Club, the sponsor of the contest.

It was a tough decision, but the judges finally made their choice. The first place winner was Sandra Godfrey, who sang a song that she and Debbie Tremel wrote. Second place was earned by Todd Boyd, who played "Maleguena" on the piano; and third went to Ann Moore, who sang, "You Needed Me."

Needing help desperately were the faculty basket-ballers when they were pitted against the Varsity team. In that March 29 game, the Varsity won 66-58. Some of the teachers included Milton King, Don Crossfield, Geoff Fong, Thurman Bell, and Bill Walker, a variety from all departments. Mr. Bell insisted that the varsity team won because they cheated — they were younger and faster.

Students dance in bed sheets

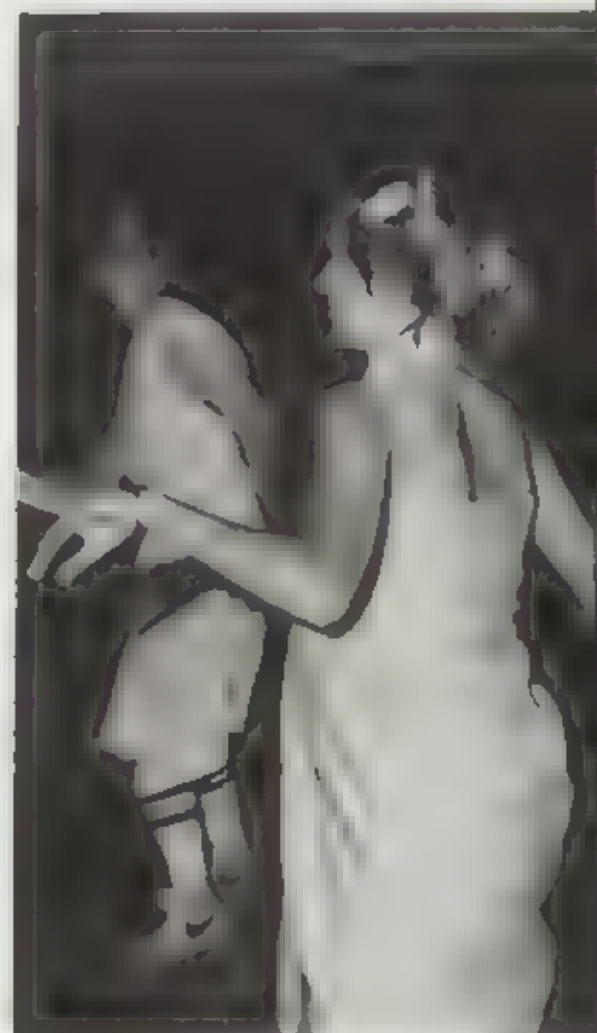

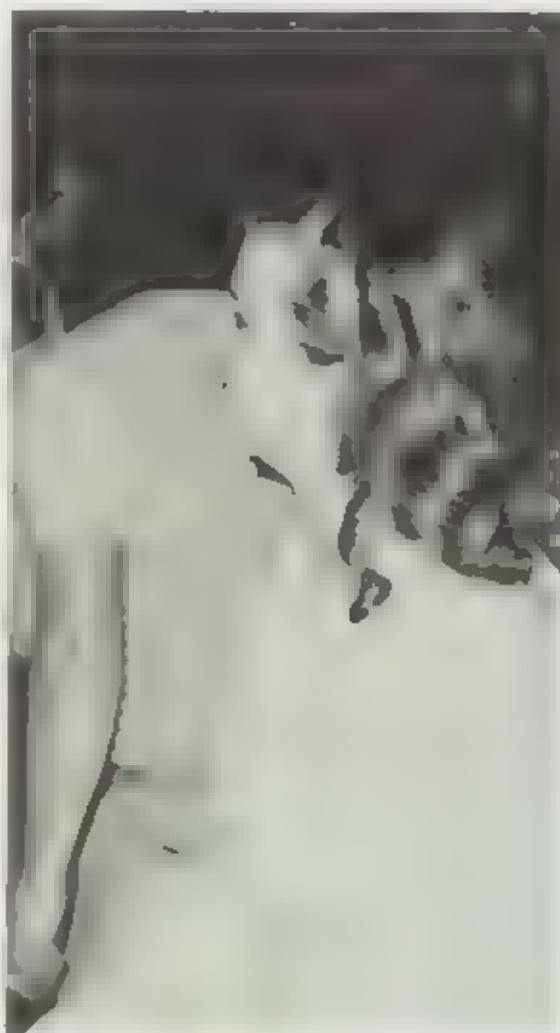

Straying from a tradition, this year's student council turned the usual April 1st Fool's Twirp into the First Toga Twirp (A Toga is nothing but a bed sheet, but the talent is seen when one puts it on)

Sometimes after the dance had started, the King of the Toga Twirp was announced. "Huggy Bear" Brent Seehawer was elected by a group of students as King. Brent and his escort climbed onto the stage, where he was awarded his crown and scepter, and then with his escort danced the King's dance

Three dollars was the price paid to enter this untraditional dance. If a couple didn't wish to pay the nominal fee, they could try their luck on the weighing scales, which charged a penny a pound of the couples' combined weight. There also was a severe penalty ($.50) added to the price if the couple didn't wear a toga.. This penalty wasn't paid often because the majority of students did wear their bed sheets

Stormy Hall provided the music for this eccentric twirp. The location of the dance was changed at the last minute from the Community building at the Fairgrounds to St. Joseph's gym because of a mix-up regarding who had what reserved. Leadership then did some fast thinking so that every one would know the change of place

Srs., Jrs. take trip to heaven

On their way up the stairway to heaven were the 189 senior and junior students who, with their dates, attended the Prom. The Juniors honored the Seniors with the theme Stairway to Heaven.

'Heavenly' describes the decorations picked to illuminate the atmosphere. The Juniors organized in the back individual booths for couples and in the middle of the dance floor a stairway with angel hair leading to the ceiling. To accentuate this there were colored lights reflected by mirror balls.

The stage, surrounded by the mirrored effect of the silver tinsel along with white wrought iron chairs upon blue carpet, was the place where the retiring court gave up their crowns to the new one. This year's prom court consisted of Queen Diana Voss and her princesses — Rhonda Smith, Dawn Dickinson, Cheryl Gregory, Lynne Pinkston, Jackie Manary, and Kim Buckner. After the announcement of the new court, the band played the theme song, and the old and the new court danced to the theme, but before it was over, everyone had joined in.

Joining the dancing took a slow toll. The band was the New Depression Blues Band out of Eugene. Though their music was good, they weren't a prom band. They played "blues" or "bluegrass" — nothing any of the students wanted to dance to.

Students paid $5.00 per couple to enter the prom, and this year Chaperons didn't tear the tickets — students kept them. The tickets were blue satin with a little boy and girl going up a stairway. The prom was held, as usual, at the Fairgrounds starting at 8:00, doors closing at 9:00, and the dance ending about 12:00, when almost everyone had already wandered out.

Life's journey

Organized by class officers for all graduating Seniors, the Senior Banquet is an annual tradition. This year's proved to be an exciting event

For this year's banquet the theme was "Life's fulfillment comes from the journey, not from the arrival." Over 300 graduating students attended. This number doesn't include the parents or faculty

This year, because the Senior Banquet was school-sponsored, parents were invited. Also because of the school sponsorship certain awards were not given out

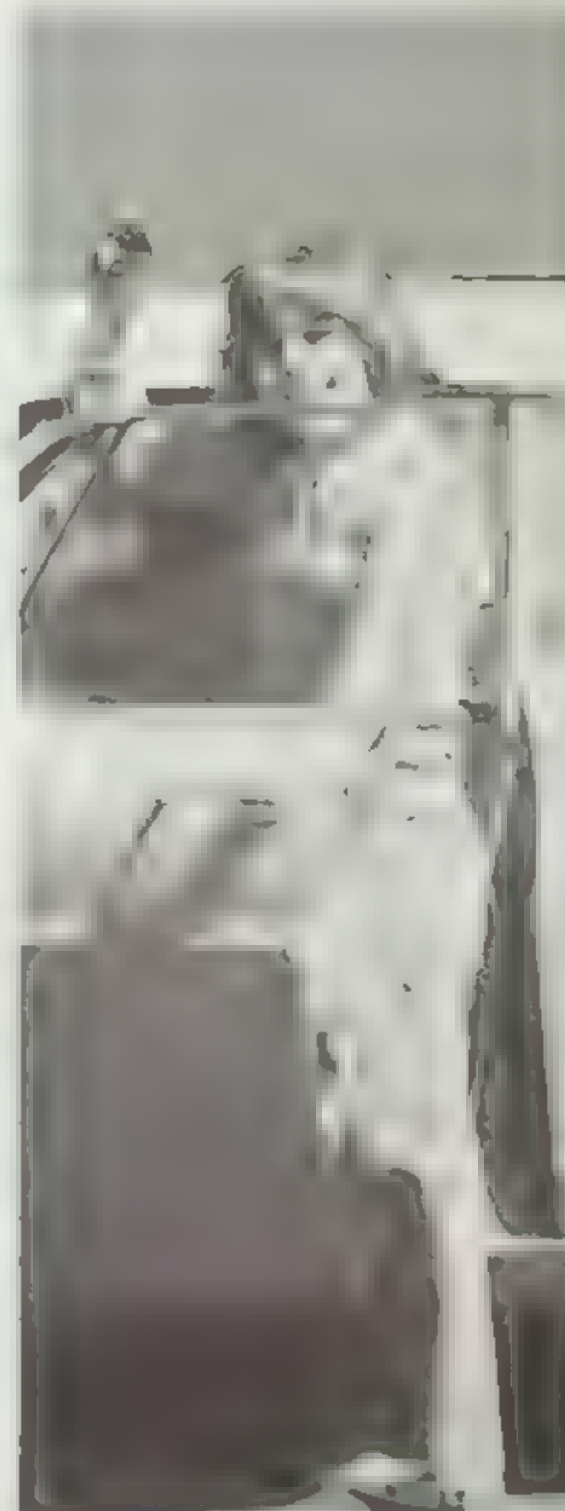

Before the awards, Scott Dunnihoo presented a slide show consisting of RHS students during their high school years. Other entertainment was provided by Mark Aldrich, Tim Brown, Dave Taucher, Van Cramer, and Kris Taylor in the form of skits. These didn't really begin, because nothing could be heard over the noise of the Seniors

The noise didn't even subside while the Seniors ate. The food was provided by Dejola's, who served spaghetti and garlic bread. For dessert there was Tina Pratt's chocolate cake with the theme written upon it. Finally — a dance

Music was produced by records Brett Agost and Jim Cole helped by lending their stereo equipment. Though not many parents stayed for the dance, a great number of Seniors did

Seniors of 1979 graduate June 3

Onto the field to the tune of "Pomp and Circumstance" marched the last class of the seventies. This class accomplished quite a few firsts

For the first time in RHS history, there was a National Merit Winner, Steve Dillman. This graduating class had outstanding athletic teams, and fantastic vocalist and band members.

After the Invocation, the RHS A Cappella Choir sang, "The Lord Bless You and Keep You," directed by Mr. David Pool. When the choir returned to their seats, Reverend Ronald Bogue then directed the Baccalaureate address to the seniors, elaborating upon their class theme, "Life's Fulfillment Comes From The Journey, Not From The Arrival Alone." Dr. Dale R. Nees afterwards gave a welcome speech

During that speech, Karen Mobley walked up to the stage to prepare to give those who had Scholastic achievement recognition. The Co Valedictorians were Joy Chastain, Craig Shike, David Spackman, Karla Crawford, and Salutatorian Paul Finster.

After the recognition, Karla Crawford then read the Commencement Address to the class of '79. Her opening statement was "We made it," which was easy for the graduates to identify with

All of the graduates then listened to Dr. Muriel W. Anderson. He asked the parents, grandparents, and great grandparents to stand up and be recognized. He ended with stating that all Seniors present had met the qualifications of the state to receive their diploma

This was when, after sitting in the 90-degree heat, that row by row the graduating class lined up to receive their diplomas. After all of the Seniors had returned to their seats, a great cheer of accomplishment and relief was heard. When the Seniors and the audience then stood, the benediction was given by Reverend G. K. Bausch. Following this was the traditional throwing of the mortarboards and the filing out of the Seniors, cued by the recessional "Toccata " a/ Friends and relatives from everywhere arrived on June 3 to watch someone graduate. b/ Smiling because she finally made it, Dena White accepts her diploma from Mr. Pat Janelli. c/ Signaling that graduation is over, the seniors traditionally throw their mortarboards. d/ No, you're not looking at the same person but twins — Terry and Tracy Muskopf — with their own diplomas. e/ Jill Kelley sighs, realizing that school is all over for her now. f/ Anticipating the end, Curtis Stockhoff reads off all of his classmates' names as they receive their diplomas.

After forty-five long, cold minutes, Administration rounds out the eight sections in the Umpqua. Jani Barton can now take off her mittens and go back to class to thaw out.

Now we come to the last section of our book. In this section, there is a word that the staff of the Unipqua must extend our hands in thanks for. That word is support. Without the helpful support of many agencies, companies, and retail businesses, this memory book could not be published. Therefore, we the staff of the 1979 Unipqua Yearbook sincerely thank the people who contributed to our advertising section. This part of our book represents a lot of time and hard work from both our sides. We dedicate this section to you.

Helen Niday clears the way for coffee-making time for the boss, Dr. Dale Nees, principal.

The moment of totality is a solar eclipse. Certainly a moment of beauty and a moment that is so rare in one's lifetime. On February 26, 1979, through dim clouds, the last total eclipse of the century put on a show unmatched by any shooting star or sky diver. Millions of people stood in awe on the earth's surface as night once again fell on our cities, our country sides, and our farms where the roosters crowed for the second time in five hours. The sky was full of viewing hopefuls. Planes were in all directions, some even waiting on the ground to take their leave, but never the chance. Totality, where the gamma rays are most potent and there is nothing but an orange ring around a large, dark ball, the moon. Fire balls and explosions erupted for millions of miles off the sun's singing surface. Finally, as the sun and the moon began to move out of each other's way, a bright spot on the edge of the exhibition, the diamond ring. As the sky began to lighten once more, all of us felt inside that this was something special, something to remember — and we will.

Well, that about does it for this year. It went fast and now is behind us. Though we know it is impossible to capture everything in 272 pages, the staff of the '79 Umpqua hope this book will preserve some of your fondest memories. Many thanks must go out to the people who put out special effort to help us finish this book our project for the year.

Around deadline time we could always count on Mr. Bill Willis of Douglas Portraits, who always came through in the clutch on last minute blow-ups. Also special thanks go to our Taylor Publishing Representative Betty Anderson, whose advice was instrumental in the unity of our book. Also, special gratitude goes to senior student Jari Barton for her time and patience in painting the tee-pee for

Most of all, the staff's deepest appreciation to our hardworking advisor, Mr. Don Bodeen. Many a deadline did he sweat with us as those final pages rolled in. The judgement and inspiring words from Mr. Bodeen are the core of our book — the drive that makes these pages lasting memories of something familiar at RHS.
